Mike, adversity will only make us stronger. The true measure of a man is how he takes care of his family and those around him. You are very well respected by everyone I ever met from pasadena which says a lot. I will look at this as another learning experience and another stepping stone to my long term success. You have some real quality people such as scott husted and gina and many others that it was a pleasure to work for. I think it was just bad timing.
