Hey Mike,

I know we've never met but I've been one of your employees for a year this month. I just wanted to let you know that working for you was a pleasure. I think of you as a strong individual who cares about his company and doesn't put us in the dark like other leaders tend to do. I have gained so much knowledge that I can use in the future. When I purchased my house in March I actually read every single document and knew what I was getting myself into. I thank you for that, because I'm sure my broker wasn't expecting a 19 year old to be so smart. You have done so much for this company and I look up to you for all the hard work you have put into keeping it running. Indymac will never be the same without you and know that you will be greatly missed. I wish the best for you and your family. No one can be an amazing leader like you. Best wishes,
